

Precis 2024

In amidst cities, green places provide space to respite. They decorate the city and balance the environment. People gather here for relaxation and perform events to strengthen community bonds. The parks minimize urban heat, provide quality air and peace. But, the challenge is to balance the rapid development and nature's preservation. A proper is necessary for developing parks, treelined avenues and greentops. Thus, the aim is to cultivate these bustling cities and maintain a harmonious coexistence between human and nature.
