

Civil Servants: "The new Influencers"

Date: _____

Civil Service has always been considered a noble job, Services by majority. but now, it is being seen as a means to climb socially upward in the social strata for the prestige and the honor it offers. Also it has become a display of showoff. Some people come into this service because of the benefits it brings. it is also a platform where opportunities come at your doorstep. For some, it has become a race of winning and losing, and passing it is makes itself a huge achievement.

The perception has often created a delusion that of "against all odds" by the go stories from academies and social media.

With a modern touch, Social media has made a civil servant influencer. Civil Servants are also showing interest in social media's image as they showed to previous timings before. Hence this brings contention between being a civil servant and influencer. Some argue it is showing false image to the youth, all the glitz and glamour, while some argue, it is creating a powerful impression on the youth that their time will also come.

ans. 1) The humorous examples, the writer give to show how favel is linked with different situation is as follows: If the weather is rainy, Pakoras ^{are} eaten, if there is a heatwave, favaala is required and if there is a sadness, ik haleem comes to the rescue.

ans. 2) According to the text, Cricket matches in Pakistan often become more about favel than the game itself, because the game is already nerve-wrecking, and despite the end-game of the result, what matters is the favel, hence the winner ^{are} the golgappas outside the stadium to make people feel better.

ans. 3) Author's attitude towards Pakistan's amusement Park is that they are prebnt but they are outdated machines, and one ride or them can give anyone muscle cramps or spasms.

ans. 4) This means, that Pakistan's obsession with favel has led them to gain weight, unhealthy eating habits and has created narrow-minded thinking and experience in people.

ans 4) If Pakistan had developed entertainment industries, there would have been less emphasis on food for entertainment. Rather there would be more emphasis on physical energy and activities involved.

Q.4

(i) Knowledge of Computer Science is very important nowadays.

(iv) As he was running down the street, the bag fell from his hand.

(Q1V) They left the hotel in a car where they had been staying.

(vi) The soldier was given a medal for his courage while his colleagues cheered for him.

(viii) The lawyer tried to cite the correct law, but his opponent accused him of making false citations.

Q.5

A) Let us explore the meaning of the quote: "do unto others as you would have them do unto you." Said the teacher. The student replied: Does it mean? That if I want kindness, I must first show kindness, the teacher nodded and said: Exactly! It is about treating people the way you wish to be treated. The student smiled and added: So if I respect others, I am more likely to be respected in return. 'Yes', said the teacher, concluded that is the "Golden Rule of Life."

B) i) The professor insisted on completing the assignment before the deadline despite the university being closed on holidays.

ii) She has been working on a solution that lies beneath the surface of the problem.

iv) The lawyer argued against the proposal while standing in front of the very committee that had voted in favor of it last year.

(v) His reputation rests on principles he never strayed from even when under severe pressure.

(vi) The old alley was discovered in ruins carefully placed between two bricks.

Q.6

(i) She cannot join the meeting today and apologised in advance by saying I am sorry, but I have other fish to fry.

(ii) Every projects she gets involved in becomes highly successful. She truly has the magic touch.

(iii) The crowd will go bananas when their favorite team when scored the winning goal in the final seconds of the game.

(iv) Thakur's sudden change in buying weapons from Russia has raised a red flag for the administration of United States.

(iv) Seno's anchor biasness the local government's inefficiency in handling the water-resource crisis, but all the users knew it well just for grapes because he held a bias for local government.

Q.7

Helen Keller mentioned a unique wish in her diary that: "How will I live my life in three days. If I get the light of my eyes back. She said:- On her first day, She would look at the faces of her beloved people and will learn how their love and light shines show through their eyes. On her Second day, She wished to see the tunings of nature, by looking at the nature rays of sunshine, tree's vegetables flower's colors, and the blueness of the sky. On her 3rd day,

She wants to see the library of the world by going into the markets and also see the amusement it has to offer to judge people's means of entertainment. For her, this three day gift is equivalent to her life changed from darkness to light.