Essay

Pakistan is an under developing country, which faced multiple issues in its history and it is still facing most of them. Corruption is also one of them. Most of the corrupt politician makes policies for Pakistan, which are only beneficial to them and which hinders the progress of Pakistan. These politician also do fraudulent activities in budget and spend and hide most of the budget ~~for~~ to buy their properties and to spend it on their luxurious lifestyles. However, not only ^{some} politician but also some other government officers do corruption in their sectors. Mostly FBR sector and tax collecting bodies do corruption. These sectors or officers do corruption with the help of some industries, who exempt their huge tax by ~~sp~~ giving some money to tax collecting bodies. In Pakistan, corruption is everywhere whether it is upper sector, lower sector, government sector and or private sector. And Pakistan is suffering and facing huge problem due to this fraudulent activity. It is mostly happening in Pakistan, due to lack of strict rules and regulations in a country. Corruption is ~~not~~ a single factor, which causes multiple negative impacts on other sectors and country. Some of those impacts are budget deficit, tax exemptions, poverty, loan is required to meet the needs of a country, hospital or medical field suffer, well qualified people face unemployment, moral decadence, ~~and~~ criminal activities, not enough budget left to spend on other emerging skills and low agricultural productivity. Although, corruption itself a biggest fraudulent activity, which leads to the other severe problems and cause a devastating impact on a country in a long run. (264)
