Essay

A country cannot stable its economy and enjoy its natural resources, without having good relations with its neighboring country. The disputes with its neighboring countries can bring economic instability and restless situation in the country or its borders. Pakistan is also facing these challenges with its neighboring countries especially with Afghanistan and India. Terrorism activities in Pakistan and Afghanistan borders and in Balochistan causing a restless situation in Pakistan. Which rises the question of human security and also causes an adverse impact on Pakistan tourism. From the first day of Pakistan, it start facing serious conflicts with its neighboring country India. India always labelled Pakistan as a terrorist country, in front of whole world. India also broke the treaty and accord of water and Kashmir. On the April, 2025 it closed the water flow of Indus Water towards Pakistan, which leads to the serious conflict between two countries. In the result of this conflict, India faces 6-0 situation. In the pervious years Pakistan and Iran has also disputes, due to religion differences, but now after the Isareal attack on Iran, Iran and Pakistan start focusing on building a good relation with each other. Although, China is one of the old friend of Pakistan, but due to economic unstainability in Pakistan, effects adversely on it is investors such as China, which may hinder the progress of Pakistan. ¶ On the other hand, if Pakistan start building good relations with its ^{neighboring} countries, it can lead to the great opportunities of Pakistan. Some of them are CPEC, which can helpful in generating job opportunities and development in Pakistan. Importing oil from Iran can be helpful in reducing the oil prices in Pakistan. Good relation with Afghanistan can be helpful in bringing the peace in both countries and lastly, building a good relation with India can helpful in water treaty, Kashmir issue and economic sustainability. However, if Pakistan can tackle the challenges with it is neighboring countries, it will be a win-win situation not only for Pakistan development and economy, but it also helpful in bringing the peace in Pakistan, especially on Pakistan borders.
