

Life is tragedy to those who feel and comedy to those who think

CSS 1979

Outline Introduction Thesis- Statement

Life appears tragic - ~~Life is a tragedy to those who look at it~~ only through emotions, but it appears to be comedy to those who view it with reason and perspective.

But it transforms itself into

Life seems tragic when people depend only on emotions

2.1 Emotions make people see life as full of suffering
2.2 Emotions increase - the pain of personal losses
2.3 Emotions turn disappointment into life long grief

Well creative and quite clear in stance

3 writers and poets have often ~~seen~~ life as a tragedy. It is fate and suffering that engulfed life 3.1 Thomas Hardy: He believed that human life is controlled by fate and suffering.

3.2 Shakespeare: His tragedy ~~shows~~ strong emotions destroy life: human lives.

3.3 Romantic poets: They ~~say~~ deep feelings that end in sadness.

(4) life seems common when people use wisdom and reason

4.1 Reason helps people to rise above sorrows

4.2 wisdom allows people to see the absurd side of life

4.3 Humor makes difficulties lighter and easier to face

(5) Many novelist and philosophers have shown life as a comedy.

5.1 Charles Dickens. He used humor to correct Social evils and show hope.

5.2 Cervantes:

He presented human foolishness with wit in Don Quixote

5.3 Voltaire.

He absurd life

He exposed life absurdities with irony in Candide

Life contains both tragedy and comedy at the same time.

Human existence has both pain and joy both are real life parts.

A balanced approach helps to live better.

Do not write in pronouns plz

- 1 Sensitivity comes from emotions, and stability come from reason.
- 2 Balance between the two give meaning and strength.
- 3 If life has 70% sadness and 30% happiness one should balance it well instead of focusing on sadness and avoiding happiness.

conclusion.

Good

Well organised