Conclusion.

Now, days also the gone, when women were of suppressed, tortured and socially out of race - Now they are at the driving seat of most important decision making delegations.

It has been a long struggle of the women.

Your examples are okay but write proper arguments

Properly understand the topic

what they have demanded.

You need to argue how women emerged from fragile position to leading positions in politics

So is hope that, there is no more bright future of women is lying ahead.
