

2-Aug-25

THE EVOLVING ROLE OF WOMEN IN LEADERSHIP AND DECISION-MAKING

OUTLINE

Thesis statement should be an answer to your essay topic

1. Introduction:

- "In a long defined patriarchal norms, the rise of women into leadership and decision-making is not just a social shift - but a silent revolution"

2. Overview of old norms that limited the potential of women.

3. Women in leadership and decision-making:

- a) Women suffrage movement - rise of feminism, - Mary Woolstone; Fatima Jinnah and Begam Liaquat Ali Khan (APWA) in Pakistan.

b) Political Participation:

Prime Minister - Georgia Meloni; first women Prime Minister of Islamic country - Benazir Bhutto.

Your points are okay but try to give examples from world as well. Don't limit your essay to Pakistan only. While mentioning solutions enlist those points

The Forward Role of Women in Leadership and Decision Making

c) Women Role in religious teachings - Scholar Ayesha Khan

d) Parliament and Law-making bodies - Fehmida Mirza, climate advocate Shireen Rehman.

e) Judiciary - Ayesha Malik (first female Judge of Supreme Court of Pakistan)

f) Civil Services - Dr. Sassi Malik Sher.

g) Women in Diplomacy and Foreign Affairs - Maleeha Lodhi; Amna Bloch (foreign ~~Minist~~ Secretary).

h) Rising role of women in Media and Journalism - Asma Sheerazi, female journalist Fatima Hassouna of Gaza.

i) Women in Entrepreneurship - CEO of CVS health ; Naheed Memon (Oracle development).

j) Women in welfare and social services - Bilqees Edhi ; Asma Jahangir.

k) Women in Sports - PV Sindhu from India ; Bisma Khan (captain of Pakistan's women cricket team).

l) Women in educational advocacy - Malala Yousufzai (Malala Funds).

m) Women in Military - ~~Major~~ Retired Major General Shahida Malik

n) Women in Law enforcing bodies - ASP - Sher Bano.

4) Challenges to women in leadership roles and decision-making authorities.

5) Solutions for mainstreaming women into leading authorities.

6) Conclusion.

Make a hook strong enough to grab the attention

In a long defined patriarchal norms, the rise of women into leadership and decision-making is not just a social shift, but a silent revolution. In history, women were confined to domestic responsibilities only, but contemporary, women are part of various movements, activism, head of the states, international organizations and international roles. Women are scholars, civil servants, journalists, military and police officials etc. There is not any field or discipline in which women are not participating. For instance, in education, social ~~use~~ welfare sectors and religion. On the other hand, judiciary and law-making bodies such as senate and parliaments are not only male centered anymore. Even the so-called male-oriented field - sports, are also lead by women as captains and winning positions. However, a few challenges are faced by women which are yet to be addressed through practice implementation of laws and changing new norms into the society. Through these, women will more prominently appear on the leadership and decision-making roles. ~~Taking into~~ Considering the potential of women, founder of Pakistan, Muhammad Ali Jinnah said - "No Nation can rise to the ~~big~~ height of glory unless your women are side by side with you".

Incorporate your thesis statement in Introduction.

Avoid cutting

Overall points and presentation are okay

But work on your argumentation and convey your ideas in a well articulated and integrated manner

No need to end the paragraph.

WTH quote

Write just thesis statement at the end