Urban Plantation: Creating Haven in City

In busy cities, greenery is like havens to provide peace. Parks maintain a balance between urbanization and nature. They decorate the cities and render recreational spots for community gatherings and boost urban lifestyle. They also supply fresh air and help to maintain mental health and hot environment.

A proper plan in shaping a municipality is necessary to tackle the challenge of balancing urbanization and greenery. Therefore, the aim of plantation ^{is to} promote a friendly ^{coexistence} coexistence between human development and environment.

Idea is generally ok. Mistakes identified.
