In today's world, women ~~are not~~ remaining frail anymore. They understand their rights and equality due to the advancement and revolutionizing world. The education plays a great role in bringing women empowerment in a world. Education not only teach and give knowledge to the women, it also gives women build women confidence. The women awareness program and campaign also change the thinking perspective of people. Women understand that if they want to enjoy equal rights and opportunities, they have to work on themselves and learn new skills. Most of the men also start supporting women and encourage them to achieve their goal. Pakistan first female <sup>became</sup> a judge because having a ~~sport~~ support of her husband. So, in women empowerment men also start playing their significant role. Without supporting each other both gender will not be able to achieve and succeed in their field. Some of the field in which women are working and are not to be able to work in these fields in previous decades are women in business field, sports, literature/poetry, novels writer, online business, military field, medical field, influencer, politics, technology, wrestling and some other activities. Now, women understand their rights and also learn how to do their self defense. This women empowerment not only bring women equal rights in the society, but also led to the prosperity of the nation or society. (226)
