

It is our collective responsibility to support and preserve the environment in which we live:

Outline:

1. Introduction:

Thesis statement: In this contemporary world, the environment faces horrible threats in the form of global warming and climate change. It can be preserved through awareness, laws, treaties and funds.

2. A bird's eye view of the environment

3. Ways through which nations can support and preserve the environments:

3.1 Promote awareness about the environment

3.2 Preserve wildlife across forests and water through the implementation of laws

3.3 Plant billions of trees across the globe

3.4 Resist against timber mafias

3.5 Proper disposal of solid waste management

3.6 Reduce the emission of CO_2 by shifting into renewable energy resources

- 3.7 Enhance fundraising for environmental protection
- 3.8 Monitor eco-system through drone surveillance
- 3.9 Foster sanitation policy across the globe
- 3.10 Reduce weapon tests in environment through CTBT treaty

4. Challenges on the way of supporting and preserving the environment:

- 4.1 Global competition harms the existence of clean environment
- 4.2 Local resistance against environment protection laws

5. Recommendations to overcome the challenges:

- 5.1 The role of international organization is essential to protect the environment
- 5.2 Allocate significant funds to protect environment locally

6. Conclusion

The Essay

During the world war-I, when timber supplies were dangerously low, a French officer wrote to Prime Minister Georges Clemenceau, seeking permission to cut the ancient oak forest of Normandy for the construction of military ships. Georges Clemenceau replied "Save the trees. We can build warships but we can never re-build the forest of Normandy which supports the existence of the environment."

This historical remark shows that the support and the preservation of the environment is essential for the continuation of life. It is a collective responsibility of every human being to support and preserve the environment. People can support and preserve environment through the promotion of awareness. Besides, nations can also protect the environment through the preservation of wildlife and plantation of billions of trees across the perservation of the environment.

Environment supports life and economies.

Nations can perserve the environment through providing seminars in formal schooling, universities and public spaces. For instance, encouraging students on higher level to get speacilization in environmental science can lead to awareness and literacy about • environment. In this regard, the promotion of awareness can protect the environment. Thus, promotion of awareness about environment is essential.