

Discipline : A path to Success

The author says that people called discipline one of the most difficult problem. Society discipline the citizen through certain socio economic patterns. The author discusses about whether discipline is necessary every time or not. Most of the young people wants ~~to~~ not to be disciplined, and should be allowed to be free. To be free, without understanding the discipline is ineffective. Athletes disciplined himself everytime. Discipline ~~is~~ ~~his~~ ~~life~~ keeps him fit and makes his health good. Discipline pursues various aspect of life including educational and professional life. Success cannot be achieved without discipline. Someone can argue in favour of freedom without compromising the discipline. The author says ~~that~~, it is necessary to follow the discipline to achieve the goals.

Total wrds = 290
included words = 110

PMS Punjab

Great orators of Ancient Time

It is impossible to forecast the future of oratory. The word 'orator' is used without derisory accent. The orators of the ancient times engaged themselves on the task of great importance. One of the ancient writers, said about them they were shaping works for the future and offered themselves to be tested by time and envy. The author says, Winston Churchill was great orator of ancient times. During oratory, he took care of both of his idea and graciousness of his language. Churchill's name is extraordinary high in english oratory. His speeches are to examples of best human speech, they will be remembered in history of world.