The Ancient Greek Oracles

According to the author, human beings in their circumstances of life felt the necessity to communicate with their creator. Humans seek guidance through soothsayers knowledge of multiple interpretations. The soothsayers with specific style of delivering their oracles used to observe certain phenomena of nature and gave their interpretations. The author described other popular knowledge of interpretations as well in ancient Greeks. Including a superior degree from interpreter's reach; the essence of god itself in a human being. The author explained their names, styles and famous practices of that time. At that time, it was one of the pious practices that each oracle was associated with a specific god and a proper place organized for it.
