The fear of human beings, concerning life and nature, compelled them to develop connection with Omnipotent Gods. In ancient Greece, unaware of methods to please Gods, people relied on soothsayers to deconstruct Gods' wishes. The soothsayers used various techniques, such as flashes of ^{various natural phenomena} lightning and rolls of thunder to interpret Gods' wishes. However, in certain cases, human themselves ~~were directly~~ ^{chosen} chosen by Gods to deliver the messages directly to the people. The oracles were often associated with multiple supreme powers. For example, Apollo, entrusted with conveying Zeus's messages to mortals, also exercised influence through the oracles delivered at Delphi. Similarly, Dodona, the oldest oracle, assisted Zeus.
