

What are the various strands of Indo-Pacific construct of US and its allies? What are the options for Pakistan to deal with the significance assigned to India in the Indo-Pacific region?

OUTLINE

1) Introduction

US and other powers in the Pacific are relying on various tactics like alliance formation, defense agreements and increased military presence to counter adversaries (mainly China). Under the same policy, India is being propped up as a regional power and a counter-weight to China. To deal with the significance assigned to India, Pakistan needs to strengthen its military cooperation with China and strengthen its naval capabilities through procurement of naval ships, frigates and UAVs.

Countering the notion of India being the 'net security provider' in Indian Ocean and forging close ties with littoral states Indo-Pacific region are also crucial to counter the rise of India as the hegemon.
