

Comprehension:

(1)

In the modern era, technological advancements are evident. The integration of artificial intelligence is a major turning point in the lives of human. The parallel conduct of human matters and AI efficiency holds immense responsibility. The evolving relationship of humans and technology should be navigate through the mirror of ethical awareness.

(2)

E-learning platforms has transformed the mode of education from traditional to digital. In this regard, a serious concern known as "digital divide" has raised to create inclusive policies for those communities who lack digital access. However, digital landscape has proved to be life-blood for democratization of information.

(3)

Digital divide is unequal access to modern technology. In this way, inclusive policies are required to provide equal access to all community members. The role of educators, in current scenarios, should be beyond teaching. Instead, they teach students to carry a sense of responsibility and bring ethical conduct.

Day: _____

Date: _____

(4)

Machines have no emotions. They are not concerned with human ethics and humanity. When AI integrates into our day-to-day tasks, it creates a foggy picture of human capabilities and machine abilities. Therefore, the intersection of technology and ethical considerations becomes a defining point in ongoing revolution.

(5)

Ethical awareness and mindful approach is the shared responsibility of the society, in navigating the intersection of humanity and technology. Aligning progress with equity, inclusivity, and ethics require policy choices - where technological advancements serves humanity collectively, rather than deepening divides.

SATISFACTORY
10/20