

Precis 2002

Human species could be named Faber other than homo sapiens. The very nature of communication made our species humans. Because if a man is knower and does of something, it is due to the ability to talk. Without language, man is like "Yahoo of Gulliver's Travels". Although clever but self-centered, living like animals. It is the language which brought awareness about everything. Man got knowledge about his surrounding. Through language societies evolved and moved towards civilization.

Title:

The Power of Language: The making of humanity