

✓ 1. In every country people imagine that they are the best and the cleverest and the others are not so good as are not so good as they are. The Englishman thinks that he and his country are the best; the Frenchman is very proud of France and everything French. The Germans and Italians think no less of their countries and many Indians imagine that India is in many ways the greatest country in the world. This is wrong. Everybody wants to think well of himself and his country. But really there is no person who has not got some good and some bad qualities. In the same way, there is no country which is not partly good and partly bad. We must take the good wherever we find it and try to remove the bad wherever it may be. We are, of course, most concerned with our own country, India. Unfortunately, it is in a bad way today. Many of our people are poor and unhappy. They have no joy in their lives. We have to find out how we can make them happier. We have to see what is good in our ways and customs and try to keep it, and whatever is bad we have to throw away. If we find anything good in other countries, we should certainly take it.

A Nation Should be Realistic

Every nation thinks that they are superior than others. English, French, Germans, Italians and Indians imagine themselves the greatest. However, it is not appropriate because, a man contains both good and bad qualities. In the same way, a country also has good and bad areas. ~~Though~~ We should pick the good things and overcome the negative ones. According to the author, their concern should be the issues of their own country, India. They should try to resolve those issues and keep and adopt the positive traits and skip the bad ones.

main idea is picked but basic grammar is too weak
not satisfactory

sentence structure is incorrect and sentences don't convey complete meaning

need improvement 7/20

Word Count = ~~22~~ 22's

Preci words = 92