

Precise Mock - 1

"Ephialtes: A Justified Villian"

Villians were rarely justified in the movies, watched by the author.

But Ephialtes, a villian from action film 300, was not wicked.

His disloyalty to Leonidas was justified in his being rejected twice

He was a disabled Spartan.

Spartans, as innate soldiers, were used to execute such a child.

Therefore, Ephialtes's parents, instead of killing their beloved son, fled from Sparta. His father trained him to be a soldier. So that, he may be accepted by Spartans one day. Notwithstanding his great weaponry skills, Leonidas disapproved him even for a suicidal mission against Persians.

Leonidas alleged ^{that} his disable body was unable to defend his adjacent fellows. This rejection provoked the despotic Ephialte to join Persian army to defeat the Spartans. According to author, if given a chance by Spartans, he would ^{have} inflicted a crushing defeat upon Persians. Thus, he ~~was~~ ^{did} not ~~a~~ betray.

Word count: 143

total = 429

main idea is picked and discussed over all basic grammar and sentence structure needs improvement
be precis and to the point and write sentences with complete meaning need improvement 7/20

Comprehension

CSS 2021

Qno:1

The doctrine of ^{hyperpower} set by neo-imperial America gives her the legitimate right to conduct pre-emptive strike in case of any suspicious threat to its national interests. This doctrine makes the use of arm force an opposite way to ^{cause} deterrence. Thus, deny the need to counsel.

sentences are not supposed to be on 6 7 lines!!!!

Qno:2

Although, war has no moral justification yet the American ^{neo conservative} + journalist claimed that America and Belgium have no 'moral equivalence'. Because Belgium was against the hyperpower doctrine of the US.

incomplete answers

Qno:3

America occupied Afghanistan and Iraq to manifest its military might. Under the tutelage of hyperpower these countries have no peace because to acquire its security interest America led the countries into the chaos destruction by ^{paring the way for} the administration of warlords instead of democracy.

sentences are too long
sentence structure is incorrect

Qno 34

At the concept of war Europe and hyperpower us are at cross purposes. Europe prime minister Tony Blair wants to counter the hyperpower doctrine of America through wise counseling

Qno 35

sentences are too long

Tony Blair's means "the peaceful diplomatic ^{instead of war} by 'wise counsel' to contain the hyperpower of the US. But his offer was refused by America.

main ideas are picked and discussed but sentence structure is not correct need improvement 8/20