

The Importance of Urban Green Spaces.

Urban green areas such as parks are very peaceful. It provides a safe place for wildlife which creates a good combination of Urban development and environmental preservation. It also develops a bond among people by sharing their places for events. By contributing, they can improve the quality of nature which can also improve mental health. But the problem lies in increasing Urbanization and preservation of greenery. Since it is very important to maintain parks, tree-lined avenues etc, as its protection and improvement is a shared responsibility for a sustainable life.
