

① Nature distribute its blessing in such a way that it encourage interection; one part of globe should be dependent upon other.

Precis

A person who cannot decide between two things will do neither. He will always be going back and forth without accomplishing anything. Instead of moving forward, he will be stuck. Only the person who takes counsel and then perseveres firmly without paying any heed to hurdles achieves his final destination.

Exercise 6: Write a précis of the following passage and suggest a suitable title.

Nature seems to have taken particular care to disseminate her blessings among the different regions of the world with an eye to this mutual intercourse and traffic among mankind, that the natives of the several parts of the globe might have a kind of dependence upon one another, and be united together by their common interest. Almost every degree produces something peculiar to it. The food often grows in one country, and the sauce in another. The fruits of Portugal are corrected by the products of Barbados, and the infusion of a China plant is sweetened by the pith of an Indian cane. The Philippine islands give a flavor to our European bowls. The single dress of a woman of quality is often the product of a hundred climates. The muff and the fan come together from the different ends of the earth. The scarf is sent from the torrid zone, and the tippet from beneath the pole. The brocade petticoat rises out of the mines of Peru, and the diamond necklace out of the bowels of Hindustan. (Wren and Martin)

Precis

Mother nature has consciously distributed her bountiful resources amongst humanity in a way that the residents of one place are dependent on the residents of another place which will promote unity and interconnectivity. Every resource is unique as one area's raw material is like a single item of clothing is

Title: Interdependence of world's Resources.

Nature <sup>has</sup> ensured that different parts of the world are interdependent, each contributing <sup>a</sup> unique element that benefits other. The food we eat, the dress we wear, come <sup>from</sup> across the world. ~~Example,~~ <sup>the</sup> food grown in one part and its product accomplish in <sup>an</sup> other part. The different climates across the world also influence quality of food, such as far and wide across the world. Such interdependency shows the unity of the world.
