It is necessary to know enemy's opinions in order to find our hidden weakness.

Our friends always try to praise us according to our likeness. They do not pay attention to our faults or hide it so that we do not be sad. In the contrast, enemy try his best to find out our weakness. Although, he make a little gossip to a big blunder. Friends always promote our goodness and enemy spread our bad habits. Therefore, we should be thankful to our enemies because they inform us about our bad habits. In this scenario, enemy is better than friend.

Common people thinks that country's law and individual's freedom is opposite to each other. Although it is not wrong. Every law implements restriction on citizen. If laws are in large amount then restrictions will be more. Individual freedom less in bundle of restrictions. In contrast, if laws are less then individual freedom will be more.
