

Date (Precis)
1999

Concept of Democracy

Traditional democratic ideology believes in human dignity and selfish methods to govern them. It also believes in the collective development of all men instead of serving the interests of selective individuals.

Democracy advocates for minimizing the coercion and maximizing the public assent. Originally, essence of human development reflected by democratic ideology has been abandoned. But, still providing conducive environment to achieve desired goals of development, is a chief virtue of democracy.

Words in passage = Approx. 234

Words in precis : Approx. 74