

Comp 2014

1) The Reign of Terror happened during the French Revolution, after the creation of First Republic. It occurred due to the widespread civil war and unrest that began in France. It was a series of massacre and public execution of ~~public class~~ political dissidents.

2) The American Revolution was easier to complete than the French Revolution in a number of ways but the main aspect quoted by the author are as follows

1. The American Revolution took place in America away from the rest of the world and so there was no external involvement that could oppose the revolution.

2. Americans had unity and had established the essence of a separate nation that helped them to gain freedom from British colonizers.

3) The greatest challenge in the way of French revolutionaries was the divinity of the nation into multiple ~~cause~~ classes and groups.
It proved a great challenge to unite together all under one cause. This proved a great inability to complete a successful revolution.

4) The greatest strength of American revolutionaries was the unity of the American citizens and their spirit of nationalism. It helped them greatly to outlast the long and gain separation from the monarchy. Thus the nation's unity under one single cause proved to be the greatest impact on their ability to complete a successful revolution.
