

Indirect Speech

Here's the dialogue correctly written in indirect speech in paragraph form:

1-

Ayesha: Hey, Ali! Have you started preparing for the CSS exam?

Ali: Yeah, just a bit. It's overwhelming, to be honest. How about you?

Ayesha: Same here. The syllabus is huge! I'm trying to focus on one subject at a time.

Ali: That sounds like a good plan. I think I need to make a proper schedule.

Ayesha: Definitely! Let's help each other out.

Ali: Agreed!

Ayesha greeted Ali and asked him if he had started preparing for the CSS exam. Ali responded affirmatively, mentioning that it was overwhelming, and then asked Ayesha about her preparation. Ayesha replied that it was the same for her, explaining that the syllabus was huge and she was trying to focus on one subject at a time. Ali responded that it sounded like a good plan and further added that he thought he needed to make a proper schedule. Ayesha agreed and suggested that they should help each other out. Ali agreed as well.

2-

Alex: Hey, Jamie! Long time no see. How have you been?

Jamie: Hey, Alex! Yeah, it's been ages. I've been good, just busy with work. How about you?

Alex: Same here, work's been keeping me on my toes. But hey, I finally started that painting class I've been talking about.

Alex greeted Jamie, noting it had been a long time since they last met, and asked how she had been. Jamie agreed it had been ages, mentioning she had been good but busy with work. She then asked Alex how he had been. Alex replied that he had also been busy with work but had finally started the painting class he had mentioned before.

Précis:

1-

Original Text: "Climate change is one of the most pressing issues facing humanity today. It results from the buildup of greenhouse gases in the atmosphere, primarily due to human activities like burning fossil fuels, deforestation, and industrial processes. The consequences of climate change include rising global temperatures, sea-level rise, and extreme weather events. Addressing climate change requires international cooperation and the implementation of sustainable practices to reduce greenhouse gas emissions."

Précis: Climate change, driven by human activities such as fossil fuel combustion and deforestation, leads to severe consequences like global warming and extreme weather. Combating it demands global collaboration and sustainable efforts to cut emissions.

2-

Passage:

"Modern technology has significantly transformed communication. With the advent of smartphones and the internet, people can now connect instantly with others across the globe. Social media platforms, messaging apps, and video calls have made it easier to share information, ideas, and experiences. However, despite these advancements, some argue that technology has reduced face-to-face interactions and impacted the quality of personal relationships."

Précis:

Modern technology has revolutionized communication, enabling instant global connectivity through social media, messaging, and video calls, though it may reduce face-to-face interactions.