

Title: Importance of the Arctic Zone

The Arctic zone is important for man in a number of ways. Many fresh discoveries are awaiting there. However, the adventures may be tough or full of hazard during exploitation. Still the exploration of this rare land will not stop as it offers many advantages. The rich minerals in the Arctic zone is important for world economy. Agriculture and trade activities highly dependent on weather forecasts. Yet, there is something more interesting and important regarding Arctic zone. One may observe an amazing natural beauty, different objects of nature are full bloom here, which makes an wonderful impression on memory. Icebergs may risk a smooth and safe navigation during the adventure.

Words in passage: 320
Words in precise: 110

Title: Emergence of Middle Class

During nineteenth century, middle class was not considered a part of society. Even professionals were not admitted in the same. The middle class respected their members and lived happily. With the increased in their influences, life of middle class has greatly changed. They were critical of the upper classes and their superior lifestyle. They became more concerned about the condition of the poor and values of thrift, work and piety that are helpful for guiding the poor. They were not only respectable but also had diversity of opinion.

Words in Passage: 280

Words in Precise: 92

Title: The Pakistani Identity

Initially, people were very conscious of their ethnicity. They belong to the same province, but exact location made a difference. As the time passed, people were assimilated together and a new ethnic Pakistani identity began to emerge. Now their primary identity is Pakistani. Pakistan is a mixture of diverse ethnicities and languages which merge Pakistan into one identity. People shows unity at the time of celebration and the time of anxiety. This shared evolution preserved the cultural values which makes people Pakistani.

Words in passage: 237

Words in Precise: 82