	Further blows to the future of Palaistan were the the coxation of All Pakistan Awami Muslim League Parky in 1949, Jinnah Muslim League and Republican Rusty in 1951. While the emergence of political parties is a testamount to healthy and inclusive political situation of a country and the soul of democracy yet the situation in which these parties were weated in the early years of Palistan point out the deficiencies and weakings of Muslim league.
	Within the first years of Polistan around four new political poster were created and two hey leaders lost.
	Within the next five years from 1951 to 1936 the politics of constitution had begun futher showering the divide the between Islamic and Saula vorces, deprived East Palistan as evidenced by winning of United Front in 1939 munical elections and the case of Khwaja Nazimudain.
	In brief, the genie of political includity was prent since the first day of Pakistan and since then has been draining the state and its people. The soveral ways in which pulitical instability has hampered progress and come to

The very beginning of institutional imbalance in Pakistan Started when the Constituent Assembly of Pakistan was dissolved. The political agendas of individual took precedence over the very core and important institution. What followed work was the hostile imbalance among all institutions of Pakistan. The use and abuse of Doutine of Necessity by judiciary, suspension and abuse of Constitutions, political invitations to military for power, coups and tug of war between the three branches of government. Had it not been for political instability, the present of Pakistan would have been very different.

6) Human Development and governance
