

Topic: Climate change and climate financing for developing countries:

Outlines

① Introduction

② Impact of climate change on developing countries

- (a) change in weather patterns impacting overall sectors in developing countries especially agriculture sector
- (b) Rise in temperature causing ice loss ~~that~~ glaciers melting
- (c) Increase in frequency of natural disasters like floods, earthquakes...
- (d) creating health problems, which increasing burden on country's economy
- (e) Increase in no. of displaced peoples due to severe weather conditions
- (f) Affecting the local industry, causing more imports
- (g) catastrophes causing more loss and damage leading to infrastructure lapses,
- (h) developing countries take loans to tackle with these issues causing debt burden

③ Role of climate financing to overcome these impacts on developing countries

- (a) It ensure to tackle with loss and damages caused by climate change-
- (b) Helpful in investing in resilient infrastructure
- (c) climate financing is helpful in capacity building in order to mitigate and adapt those changes
- (d) useful for developing countries to translate their national climate actions into practical ground realities
- (e) ensuring transitions from fossil fuels and use of renewable energy resources
- (f) provide assistance to reduce carbon emissions
- (g) Helpful in conservation of biodiversity and protection to life

④ Conclusion