Pale affairs Political stability remains elesive concept in Paleistan. Explore factors contributing the fractured malure of Paliistan's polity and discuss potential reforms to the constitutional and political structure that could dester stability. Introduction: Political instability remains major hurdle in Pakistan's Stability since 1947. In different era's various problems fractured mature of Paleistan's polity. First of all, gap of leadership after Timmah's death, secondly, constitutional delay that diministred the governance ideology of Poleiston, third lack of developement led to ethinic politics and sift between institutions. In contemprarary perspective political polarigation and non democrátic málure causes major hurdles in Palcistan's political stability However, the constitutional and political reporms can help to overcome the issuer The reforms are pollowing, denotition of power on local level and skengthen political prices through consensus oriented approach. Moreover, build civilian institutions capable to curb the role of military in politics. The suggested reforms would help to itablige Pakistan's political situálion.

Ble There are following causes that fractured the Paleistam's polity. i) leadership gaps after Jimmah open doors for undernechalic borces On 11 september 1948, the Counding Cother of Palistan died, which created the leadership gap in Polistan. In 1952 to fill this gap Gibulam Muhammed was selected as governor. He was bureaucrôle and have no uno ledge regarding the emotions of masses. He used is discretionary powers to remain in power by disolving assemblies and delaying constitutional maling. His decisions chaos throughout the country. To control the situation du military generals Islander Misza and Ayub Khan turned him down. later in 1958, Ayub Khan declared De marshal law in the country and undemocrálic forces entered Palaistanis polity and gractured the Palistan's democratic and political system. Focus your arguments towards ii) Constitutional delay diminished the gomermance ideology of Paleistan: Paleislam's political ideology is based upon federal system of government, means higher automorny to provinces and minimum role of censler. The point was highlighted by Timmah ... many times particularly in his famous (4) points in 1928. However, long delay in constitutional making diminished this ideology and created sitt bétween proxinces and pede centles. The provinces are divided on ethinic basis therefore, it created omarchy in the country resulted in doll of Dhalca in 1971. This shows that weak dederátion is always major hurdle ofor Political Slability in Paleislan. iii) Developement issues created grienences and give rise to ethinic politics: Since 1947 till today, the proxinces of Balochistan and Khyber Paletilunkhuwa remained underdereleprot in comparision with Punjah and Sindh. That credled grievences among local people That central government always vocuses on Sindh and Punjoh due do their political reasons. This grievence give rise to political parties that are based on local marralines. The rise of ethinic parties demolish the ideology of one nákom and one Pakislan and slowly creoled gap between state and people. This málional disiálegrátion is one of the major cause of political instability.

iv) Nom-democratic mature of political parties weaken the public participation.

iii) Ensure somereignity of Parliament through strong scruttnizing committees: According to the 1973 constitution, Parliament is supreme authority and every sub-ordinale

Introduction:
For the surrinal of any state, the security malters are very impostant. Since independence, Paleistan's & internal security cared challenges due to the problem of mational integeration. There are narious important faiters that foster disinslegicion in Paleistan. These issues are, mational identity exists, secterian divide, unequal distribution of resources and political centralization. However, after through 18th amendment statecholders try tried to fix this problem with provincial autonomy and devolution of power. That somehow restored mational integration buil due le constemperary challenges problem still prevails.
Insternal security has been compromized due to the problem of motional integration in the Collowing ways:

i) Identity crises creates disintegration: Pakiston is diverse country in terms of ethnicities, longuage and relegious beliefs. According to the political ideology of notromal philosopher Allama Ighal, the major muslim ethnicities like Punjabi, Palitilum, Simolhi and Balochs should come under one Paleistani identity. However, after independen the political mistalces like "one unit schem". Through this the administrative units of west Pakiston was merged into single administration. Belochistan have distinct tribal identity and baloch leaders thinks takes this scheme to remove their identity, which resulted in second insurgency of Bolochistan between 1958 do 1959. Still Paleistan is facing huralles due to identity exises. ii) Secterian divide in the country: In 1977, when Greneral Tria-ul-Hagy imposed mortial law in the country, he proposed the scheme of islamization. Despite the ethno-lingual differences in Paleiston, the common muslim identity bind people. But they are divided on sectorion basis. Lia imposed the Sharia law donourable for specific sect, created chaos for others. To detend their belief people choose the way of violence. From 1979 to 1988 different incidents in Parachinar, Karachi, Thong and in Gilgit Baltistan turned into massacare. The sectorian division has changed the social pobric of Paleistan iii) Unequal distribution of resources: Disposities in the allocation of resources among proximes have created grievences, particularly in less developed regions like Balochistan and Khyper Palchlumkhuma (KPK). This phenomenon led to economic deprivation and create loopse for toreign involvement The sole of Aghan Taliban and Indian intelligence in the shape of Kulbhushan is very clear. This deprination create disintegration as well as poses threats for internal security. in) Political centralization: Pakistan's political hictory has been characterized by the centralized governance system. Contrary to that, ideology of Poliston suggest dederd governance model. The martiala's and centralization of power from 1958 to 1971 created mistruist among masses and state that resulted into tall of east Paleistan in 1971. Afterwards, the military coup of 1977 and on 1999, and misuse of Presidential power created the same situation in of disintegration and threats to internal security. Role of province constitutional provisions in strengthening national integration: The face of 1973 constitution was radically changed by Ria-ul-Hag and Musharat through 8th and 17th amendment. However, in 2009 the democrátic government restored it through 18th constitutional emendment. i) Division of legis latine power in 1973 constitution: The part I and part 2 of constitution provide the clear structure of dederal governance model. The constitution ensures autonomy of powers provinces by enlisting the legislative power on three levels. Federal list like detence and foreign affairs legislated by Jederal assembly. Proxincial list includes matters like Police, public health, developement and education. The third list concurrent list and both milional and provincial assemblies can legislate on that mothers. This structure ensures grealer autonomy do provinces and help do Shengthen national integration

ii) Role of Council of Common interest and National economic council: Council of Common inflerest (CCD was established under asticle 153 to resolve the dispute between provinces and dederation in areas of shared jurisdiction like electricity and notural resources.
Besides, National Economic Council (NEC) was established under article 156 do promote balanced economic developement throughout the country.
iii) Salient features of 18th amendment to ensure provincial autonomy:
a) dridicle 19A ensures thansparency in all molders of government should be public.
6) Asticle 58 was substituted which empower president to dissolve assemble assemblies.
Prime Minister was abolished.
d) According to Asticle 1507, Federal government will comsult with respective provice before the construction of hydro power plant.

e) Article 160 ensures that in any NFC award the shore of proximce will not be reduce them previous.
F) The royalty of mailural resources collected by dederal government will be poid back to province under Article 161.
The 18th amendment significantly expanded provincial autonomy, addressing long standing gsterences like minimizing the role of Jederal government in public sector, distribution of sesources and autonomy in governance.
Challenges related to proper implementation of 18th amendment:
Through sestosation of 1973 constitution through 18th amendment the provincial outenamy has been largely ensured. However, the challenges like proper electoral reforms, weak civil institutions due to political intervention and Asaditional judicial mechanism are hinderences in proper implementation of the provisions do ensure compléle pronincial autonomy and mélional inflegration Conclusion.
