Pakistan can make a compatible energy route
from South Asia to Middle East.

The volume of trade can be increased with both Saudi Arabia and Iran:

The trade volume can be increased through tri-lateral engagements in the region. Many exports were halted due to rivalry between Saudi Arabia and Iran. However for Pakistan is excellent to find diversified market trends and opportunities. For example Saudi Arabia has great potential in facilitating Pakistani exports. A report from OEC disclosed that $5.7 millions of Pakistani products were exported to Saudi Arabia in 2022 compared to $4.01 millions in 2017.

With more active involvement in SCO, Pakistan can use its links to these important Muslim countries to create an atmosphere of regional security and stability.

ii) Pakistan can now eliminate the pressure to choose one; equal partnership with both countries are achievable:

After the rapprochement deal, Pakistan is now more flexible in formulating its foreign policy. In wanting to be on good terms with both countries, Pakistan stands to gain from Saudi Arabia's economic and military assistance as well as political and energy float from Iran. This in contrast to past Saudi Arabia used to put pressure on Pakistan diplomatically to curtail relations with Iran due to their rivalry (PIIDE report, 2-23). While the cooperation model with both countries can enable Pakistan to augment its security.

Keep the description of a single argument a bit brief.

and remain non-involved in Middle Eastern Politics.

Iran - Pakistan Gas pipeline can be completed immediately with Saudi Arabia's diplomatic and Economic Support:

Saudi Arabia's power and financial resources will resolve the existing hostile and logistic interstate problems.

" Saudi Arabia can minimize American's Pressure on Pakistan due to US's
reliance on its oil "

Pakistan can use the diplomacy of Saudi Arabia's economy to expedite the proceedings of the pipeline projects, which guarantees that gas from Iran will be available. This will not only help to alleviate the prevailing energy situation in Pakistan but also promotes the relations among three countries for better development of the region.

Saudi Iran and Pakistan: Part of BRI, they both can engage Saudi Arabia in it for greater and common benefit:

Both Iran and Pakistan are part of Belt Road Initiatives (BRI). They can collaborate strategically with Saudi Arabia to promote regional China's vision to integrate Saudi Vision 2030 into its BRI project (Council of Foreign relations).

Cooperating Cooperation by including Saudi Arabia. Saudi Arabia's involvement could foster:

- ↳ infrastructure growth
- ↳ trade networks enhance
- ↳ strengthening regional connectivity

Pakistan: By using these relations, can minimize sectarian issues between Shia and Sunni:

Pakistan by utilizing its connections with Saudi Arabia and Iran, Pakistan can play a role in reducing tensions between Shia and Sunni groups.

According to a report of Dawn, Iran was supporting Shia groups in Balochistan near its borders.

Diplomatic engagement with Saudi Arabia and Iran enables Pakistan to facilitate discussions and collaborations between the two predominant factions, tackling issues and encouraging empathy. The significant influence of Saudi Arabia on the sphere and Iran's position within the Shia Community offers Pakistan a distinctive to mediate conflicts and establish cooperations.

Pakistan can make a compatible energy route from South Asia to the Middle East and Central Asia:

Pakistan can help to create a coherent energy corridor connecting South Asia with Middle East and Central Asia.

Iran's share of energy
specifically oil reserves
comprise 24% of the Middle East total reserves
(US energy Information Administration Report)

This means, Pakistan relations with these countries can improve regional trade, energy security and economic growth and strengthen Pakistan's role as an energy transportation hub.

Critical Analysis:

The above
discussions portrays a clear image
that Pakistan will have enough
after rapprochement with Saudi Arabia and Iran to engage with these countries in a friendly manner without the cost of one country over another. These relations with help Pakistan in the domain of fulfilling energy needs & diplomatic support & trade targets and regional support through SCO. Besides this Pakistan's geopolitical position will improve not only in the region but also in the world.

good attempt.

but this is a lengthy answer and will affect your time management.

Conclusion:

so shorten it a bit. After the mediators role of China, Pakistan can maintain good relationships with both Iran and the Gulf South Arabia. Through this way energy needs will be fulfilled & regional connectivity gas supply & gas supply will be enhanced in Pakistan. Lastly Pakistan's role not only in the region but across the world will be strengthened.
