

"If wishes were horses,
even beggars would ride"

1) Introduction

2) If wishes were horses
even beggars would ride?

- (i) Wishing something is not enough, efforts are required to achieve it
- (ii) Excessive dreaming without execution can lead to frustration and stagnation
- (iii) Desires alone does not overcome systemic inequality, resources and opportunity matter
- (iv) Thinking alone cannot bring change until efforts are made.
- (v) Peace cannot be achieved by merely wishing, global cooperation is required
- (vi) The dream of a nuclear-free world cannot be achieved until steps are taken for nuclear non-proliferation

DATE: _____

②

DAY: _____

- (vii) Climate catastrophe cannot be averted by merely wishes, effective global measures are required
- (viii) The dream of gender equality cannot be achieved until steps are taken to remove systemic barriers
- (ix) The desire of reducing poverty cannot be achieved until equal distribution of resources
- (x) The dream of technological advancement cannot be achieved until technology is accessible to everyone

3- Conclusion