

Question

- Sara: Ugh, I'm so done with this job. My boss yelled at me again.

Mina: What? That's a terrible! What happened this time?

Sara: I submitted the report late, and he just lost it.

Mina: But you were sick yesterday, right? Didn't he know that?

Sara: Yeah, I told him. But he didn't care.

Mina: That's so unfair. You should seriously looking at new job.

Sara: I have already started. I can't deal with this stress anymore.

Mina: Good for you. You deserve better.

Answer

• Sara says that she don't want to do this job because her boss again yelled at her.

• Mina surprised and called the situation dreadful and asked about the situation of this time.

• Sara replied that my boss lost the report that I submitted late.

• Mina asked about the bad health of previous day from Sara whether your boss knew about your health.

• Sara replied I informed him and he had not care.

- Mina called it extreme inequitable and advised to look for a new job.

- Sara told her that she could not deal with the stress and started the looking for a new job.

- Mina appreciated her decision and said that she deserved better.