

Things change for Better.

Everything changes with time. Different things and places have transformed from its dead version to new. This is the man who made it possible through discoveries. He created wonderful buildings, beautiful stations, and means of transport and communication. Such modern inventions nourish their lives. However, some cruel invaders such as Gengis Khan and Halqu Khan exploited the peace especially in Baghdad and Delhi but later everything again started shining.