The Essay

Date:

They said the war would end all wars. Instead, it birthed a thousand more - each one louder, each one blinder. World War II is a great example of how a conflict, initially limited to a single country, turned into a global war and resulted in loss of million of innocent lives. It also led to psychological trauma that left deep marks on generations. Sparked by the rise of totalitarian regimes and unresolved tensions after World War I, World War II became the deadliest conflict in human history. Beyond physical destruction, war has resulted in the loss of human life, destruction of infrastructure, economic crises, political instability, social breakdown and environmental damage. There are not only the cost of war but also the unseen consequences that have haunted history and continues to affect generations today. This essay will explore the long-term, often overlooked impacts of war, showing how it shapes societies beyond the battle field.

Thesis statement ??

Make strong attention grabber

Firstly, the consequence of war lead to loss of human life which has resulted in innocent suffering. Gaza is a case study of it. That, the oppressor Israel has been killing thousands of innocents in the name of war or just killing human. Thousands of people had lost their lives.

including children and women. This genocide is clearly telling the world how wars lead to bloodshed and loss of innocent lives. Additionally, the long term health effects of war also a reason of loss of human life. After, the cease fire between Israel and Gaza the basic infrastructure for medical services such as hospitals are destroyed. So, now they are unable to get medicines which results in death of innocent. Medicines like insulin are essential for survival of diabetic patients if they can't access that they will die. That's how war affects the health and results in loss of life. Furthermore, war also caused psychological traumas which affected generation. "The diary of a young girl by Anne Frank" she says in her book "In spite of everything, I still believe that people are really good by heart". This book is written by teenage girl and how she and her family suffered in the World War II. Also, highlights the facts how war can cause psychological trauma and long-term effects on the mental health.

Secondly, War resulted in destruction of infrastructure. The cost of rebuilding after a war is far more higher than the cost of a war. After, the destruction of Gaza the analyst says that it will hundred of million of dollar to rebuild Gaza. World War II, massive infrastructure destruction the case of Nagasaki and Hiroshima, the nuclear attack ~~destroyed~~ completely destroyed these two cities and after the attack Japan was unable to build them like they were before due to many reasons some of which are nuclear radiations and cost of rebuilding. Moreover, war's ~~disturbed~~ essential services also caused disturbance in essential services such as water, electricity, gas, food etc. The war between Russia and Ukraine has resulted in disturbance of gas supply to Europe which affects the daily life of people living in Europe. Another example is the water war between Pakistan and India. After India suspended the ~~threaty~~ Indus water treaty, Pakistan is suffering from water shortage and this issue has been there in the history for many years. That's how war led to disturbance of essential services. Furthermore, war affects the social or public services. After war, most of the public service infrastructure is damaged which leads to failure of provision of public services to the people. Therefore, war leads to destruction of social services provision to the public.

Thirdly, the hidden consequences of war are economic crises and political instability. The economic crises caused by a war are inflation and unemployment. After World War I, the economic crisis resulted in the Great Depression which included higher inflation and increase in unemployment. The demand in the market was high but the supply was low which resulted in increase in the prices of commodities and people use to carry a big pile of money just to buy bread. Also, the unemployment rate raised due to inflation, people were looking for job but there were no job because in the war those people were soldiers and after the war the infrastructure was completely damage. So, they had no where to work. That's, how war has lead toward inflation and unemployment. Additional, if a war is a long-term war then the cost of holding the war will be higher. Recent, war Iran and Israel. It was around 15 day long war the cost bore by Israel for the defence missiles on daily basis was ^{around} 385 million dollar. So, if the war extended they wouldn't be able the war without financial aid by America. That's was another consequence of a war is higher cost. Lastly, Wars cause political instability within the country and globally. Adolf Hitler took advantage of the Political instability in Germany, when people loss faith in Weimar Republic after WW2. and ~~to~~ take power in Germany. Therefore, war has hidden consequences which results in the economic crisis and political instability.

Fourthly, war results in social destruction which leads to change in social values. During World War I and World War II males in the society use to go in war as ~~see~~ soldiers, so they earn ~~not~~ bread for their family and the pay of soldier was the highest during that war. Where as female stayed at home waiting for their loved one's. that how the society values were completely change and the only purpose was defined by the ~~to~~ war. Additionally, war also resulted in change in human behaviour. Israel and Palestine war the people of Israel are becoming violent by nature due to their beliefs and their leaders they killed innocents and enjoyed watching them suffer in pain. That's, how their behaviour change and they became violent towards Palestinians. War has drastically changed the human behaviour and lead toward social destruction.

Lastly, environmental damage caused by wars has been effected generation after generation.

The nuclear radiation caused by a nuclear bomb make life impossible and it's an existential threat to human life. World war II, the nuclear attack on Japan two cities Nagasaki and Hiroshima by America given a clear image to the world how life is impossible in nuclear radiation. Furthermore, war also has long term effects on the climate which includes: decay of Global warming and and, green house gas emission and pollution. The bombs contain toxic pollutants which results in destruction of plant and animal life and also effects the ~~atm~~ atmosphere and results in the climate change. Moreover, the impacts of war on biodiversity such as destruction of habitat, pollutants, toxic substances and wild life destruction results in disturbance in the natural earth cycle. Therefore, war has a larger impact of the environment and causes destruction which ~~sh~~ have long-term effects.

~~Beyond physical destruction~~ war has resulted. In conclusion, beyond physical destruction war has resulted in loss of human life, destruction of infrastructure, economic crises, political instability, social destruction and environmental damage. They are not only hidden consequences they ~~have~~ of war but also a wake up call for the world that war has not only ~~have~~ short term effect but also long term effect which is a threat to human life and the climate. Which, give the society a way forward and look toward peace rather than war because war is not the solution the world needs.
