

* Outline

■ Drug Abuse: A growing threat to Pakistan's young generation.

1. Introduction.

2. How drug abuse is a growing threat to Pakistan's young generation?

2a. Drugs intake cloudsthe minds and thinking abilities.

(The rising percentages of drug addicts in colleges and universities).

2b. Drugs also ^{propose} possess serious up threatening concerns to the pakistan's future manpower.

(Excessive intake can cause brain-hemorrhage, heart failure etc).

2c. Excessive intake can lead the person towards feelings of self-hatred and isolation.

(Growing rate of suicides among youth in Pakistan).

2d. Drugs can consume the significant portion of one's wealth, leading to poverty and increased crime rates

2e. Excessive mood swings, dependent on the drug intake, can also effect social relations (civil strife, law and order destruction).

af. youth prone to drugs, cannot focus on either educational commitments or religious demands.

(Pakistan is facing exclusive shortage of manpower despite much population level).

3 - How the youth of pakistan can be saved/recovered from this curse?

- 3a - Educational awareness among the males
- 3b - Timely supply of rehabilitation facilities
- 3c - Strengthening law and order to deal with the suppliers with an iron hand.

4 - conclusion.

Overall your points are okay
But while mentioning recommendations, give pertinent solutions
Add more points not enough for 100 marks essay