English Precis Test.

For well-educated, intellectual or brave man it is 'impossible' to make money as its primary goal, just as people enjoy these meals but do not live solely for them. Healthy minded people like making money but they prioritize higher purpose like soldier's true aim is to fight well, not to earn money as his pay. Similarly, clergymen prioritize preaching and doctor's aim is to cure his patient rather than fees. In any noble profession all the people place their duty first and work above all personal gains, valuing service over financial reward, which is a very important thing.

- Title:
- 1) Money is not the main goal.
 - 2) Service above self
 - 3) Priority of purpose over profit.
