Prophet Muhammad (PBUH) was alone when he started spreading the peaceful message of Islam. He faced many problems, sometimes even from family and friends, but he kept on delivering his message.

People stoned him until his clothes were bathed in blood.

A woman often threw garbage in his way.

However, he did not lose hope and kept patient. Today, there are around 1.9 billion people who follow the prophet (PBUH). Islam, a religion, born in Mecca, is now spread on all continents.

It all became possible due to hope. Hope has drive mankind in all sorts of situation. It is the perfume of human life which has given strength to people when things felt hard to overcome and ~~the~~ ~~door~~ keys to the door of possibilities were lost. History and the contemporary period is full of the tales of such people who tore their way out of adversaries, failures, disbelief and misfortunes. Humans have achieved a lot in the fields of science, sport, literature, religion, and politics due to hope. Therefore, hope is a force which drive people navigating through failures and and inspiring them overcome great challenges.

Beginning with hope driving individual lives, there are many acknowledged stories of hope in political struggles of humans throughout history. One such political struggle was that, led by Nelson Mandela, against "Apartheid" regime in South Africa. The country was under the control of white race settlers.

They denied rights to the black people of South Africa and excluded them from social, political and economic spheres. Nelson Mandela stood against the atrocities of the apartheid regime. He spent 30 years of his life in jail yet hope was accompanying him.

His resilience liberated his people from the shackles of apartheid regime.

Another struggle was led by Martin Luther King Jr in United States. His struggle was akin to that of Mandela. He stood for the rights black American and gaining them equality. Martin Jr got success despite many struggles. Hope navigated him through such challenges.

Hope has also resulted many individual successes in the fields of science and innovation.

For Example, Thomas Alva Edison, inventor of the first electric bulbs, failed many times before achieving his desired objective. He utilized his failures for growth with ~~the~~ hope instead of accepting failure as the ultimate end. Another such story is that of Elon Musk. Musk's 'SpaceShip' launch failed Three times before reaching the space. He said in an interview that his Company would have collapsed if the fourth attempt would have also failed. But his hope and hardwork, made him achieve his mission. Last but not the least, the founder of Ali Baba, Jack Ma, is another ound as his father was a farmer, failures did not stoped him in his endeavour. Because he was hopeful that he will succeed.

Today, Ali Baba is one of the world's largest companies.

Similarly, hope has also made individual achieve successes in the field of literature. There are many authress who have failed before their ~~got~~ work got acknowledgement.

For example, the book, Harry Potter, got published rejected Ten times before it was first published. It's author J.K. Rowling had not ~~let~~ let failures override her hope. Instead, she made her failure teach her lessons what to change next time. Today, Harry Potter is among the most famous novels of the literary world and Rowling won many awards for her stunning work. Her story reflects the power of hope in converting failures into success.

Moreover, the field of sports is full of stunning tales where hope has driven spirits to achieve unbelievable milestones. Sports is a challenging field. It requires immense strength and endurance to achieve success which requires the will to bear and the hope to thrive. One of such storerooms of patience, hope and success is that of Arshad Nadeem. Nadeem ~~belong to the~~ is an athlete who belongs to the Punjab province of Pakistan. His success is a result of many years of struggle and hope. He achieved a record of the longest javelin throw in Olympics.

last but not the least, the struggle of religious prominent figures reflects that truly hope is the greatest driving force of human life.

Yousaf (AS), the son of Ya'qub (AS), was a child when he was left in a well by his elder brother. ~~He was yet a baby~~ His loss was a tragedy for Ya'qub (AS), who even lost his eyesight due to crying for long. But, he never lost the hope of meeting his son again. At last, his hope was compensated when he met his son as a minister of Egypt. Another grieving story is that of Yusuf (AS). He was a wealthy man ~~and~~ blessed by god.

However, everyone was jealous of him, They cursed him being virtuous only because god has given him everything. Then he was put in test by god
to denounce the cursing claims of people. All his crops got loomed, his children died and he and his wife became very ill and old. Despite all of the adversaries he remained committed to his virtues and to
god. ~~He~~ His glory was given back to him by god.
~~The~~ Ayub (AJ) patience and hope is an inspirat to all the humanity in times of sufferings.

Not only individual lives, hope has also revolutionarily shaped world. It has brought order and economic development around. Still many ~~are~~ world countries are in a quagmire yet they are alive in the hope of a better future.

In the wake of hope, many countries aspired independence movements against the British rule. The epicentre of such hope was the subcontinent where Muslims and Hindus struggled for independence against the colonial exploitation of Britain. It was a long process which span over many decades. This that political struggle was many times bathed in blood. by the colonial rulers such as in Chauri Chaura where general Dyer opened fire on innocent protestors. However, the hopes of the people high as the sea and their ~~wild~~ ~~use~~ determined ion was strong as the steel. On 14th August, Pakistan gained independ ence, and on 15th August India gained its independ ce. This became a trigge other nations who later

The Palestinian struggle for an independent homeland is.

another example of the power of hope despite 54000 people killed by genocidal regime of Israel, since OCT 7 and seven decades of occupation, the Palestinian still chant "from the river to the sea, free, free. Palestine". Their hope is stronger than Israeli tank ~~and~~, their will is unshackable and their voice is louder than the Israeli guns. The Israelis have thought that their bombings would deter ~~the~~ the Palestinian and would compel them to migrate from their homeland but they are deemed to fail. The world is now pressurizing Israel to stop its genocide.

Even its allies in the western world are grouping together and threatening to sanction Israel.

The hopes of the Palestinians would sooner or later get them
an independent homeland where they could cherish their lives.

On the same footing, humans have all around the world suffered so did African Americans too.
For centuries ~~black~~ Africans have suffered at the hands of the colonialists. They were hunted and trapped like animals and then sailed across the world in a small cage which was ^{not even} barely fit for comfortable sitting. Their suffering had no end and were completely unbearable. A movie with the name "Django" displays a very tragic past of the slave trade and African American. However, for centuries they hoped and desired only liberty. ~~that~~ This desire was partly met in Britain and United States in 18th century when Abraham Lincoln abolished slavery.

Despite that, the Japanese hoped for a peaceful and prosperous life.

They did not render their hopes and instead rebuild their nation from scratch. Today, it is the fourth largest economy on Earth.

This is a significant proof of hope being a vital force of human endeavours.

In conclusion, hope is perfume of life, the scent of which aspires humanity.
