Why become a CSP officer?

because it is a career

I want to become a CSP officer because it is like ~~being a leader in Pakistan~~. You don't ~~only~~ get to cater to your own needs but on a broader spectrum you get to serve the citizens of the state, not only the system. As I belong from an underdeveloped province, knowing the harsh realities which are faced by the underprivileged, it provides an opportunity to raise voices for ~~the~~ thousands of people. This career offers a platform to fight inequality, do what is right & implement policies for the underprivileged. As the life of a CSP officer is not just only bounded to a desk and doing paperwork but they are responsible for various services such as providing aid in the time of difficulty, mitigating risks so the citizens can sleep peacefully and making lives easier for the citizens. "Lastly, to serve one's nation is the highest dignity that one can attain."

all the best luck
