

Problems of Education System in Pakistan

Education system of Pakistan is facing numerous challenges. Low literacy rate, low budget allocation, inadequate infrastructure, unqualified teachers and poverty are the main causes of educational crisis.

As per Economic Survey of Pakistan (2024-25) Pakistan has a low literacy rate about 58-60%. Meanwhile, other South Asian countries like Sri Lanka has a 92% highest literacy rate in the region. Nepal and Bhutan have 77% literacy rate in the region. On the other hand, low quality of education in Pakistan is impacting country's future. Unqualified teachers and out-dated curriculum with less focus on science and technology is a challenge for quality-based education. For instance

India's education system is highly focused towards IT sector (Information and technology sector) as a result India has well trained IT professionals disperse which is leading world IT sector. However, Government of Pakistan has not enough contribution for education. In fiscal year budget (2026-27) only 2% GDP has been contributed for educational purpose. Due to low budget allocation, lack of inadequate schools having and basic physical facilities. Students, in a school, are unable to access for clean water, electricity and transport. Moreover, to overcome these challenges government should ~~allocates~~ high budget for education, curriculum and assessment reforms should be taken. In addition, high well-trained pedodogy staff should be hire for development of nation. Because, In 21th century priority towards education is necessary for better future.
