

Q Critically examine the role of SC in US political system.

Exordium

Judiciary holds a powerful status in US political system but the system of 'check and balance' holds check on its power.

Judiciary played a very important role in history of USA. Judiciary holds the constitution and the states from 13 states to 50 states in present time. Judiciary is marked its name by the role of chief justice Marshall.

Here is critical analysis of the role of Supreme Court in US political system. Judiciary's responsibilities:

give main heading first and relate the headings to the qs statement.

1- Supreme Court is responsible for the protection of constitution and the fundamental rights. Supreme Court can 'null and void' any law which violates the constitution and fundamental law. It is also judiciary's responsibility to the judiciary to reconstruct law with the passage of time.

leave a line space between headings for neatness.....

2- Judiciary has power over legislature that it can declare their law as 'null and void'. It has also power on executive that it can declare the constitution law as 'null and void'.

3- If some law neither violate constitution nor violate fundamental rights judiciary can show that particular law did not appeal them. By doing this SC can dismiss the law as well. For instance, Franklin Delano Roosevelt passed 'New deal' in Great Depression. Supreme court showed disagreement as it did not appeal them.

4- The one of the most important duty of Supreme Court is the interpretation of constitution.

For instance, a word 'communication' is written in constitution. Judiciary add and highlight references/examples against these arguments.....

interpret it as meaning of communication is post office, railways, highway etc. Communication is subject of center. So by this all above mentioned departments are the subjects of center. This is to empower center over state.

5- The criticism is that the ages of judges are above 70.

They are conservatives and spread conservatism.

6- They can misuse the power of 'null and void' in case of Franklin Delano Roosevelt because of political business.

7- The ^{Judicial} political system is faulty as sometimes a single person can reject the law passed by 538 parliamentarians and other 8 judges. For instance, a law is passed by parliament and in Supreme court 4 judges accepted and 4 rejected. Now the whole matter attempt by giving headings and subheadingss; not points.....

is on one person. That one judge can reject the bill or accept the bill. So in such case one individual holds the main power.

8. It is also criticized that the members of parliament should only select laws. They are the representatives of public and public gave them this authority. But Supreme court has the authority to reject their decision.

9. Supreme court is also criticized for its dominatory nature. The public do not decide that this law should make whether Judiciary decides this law should be imposed.

Denouement

There is no doubt that judiciary is criticized for its some powers. Whereas, one can not forget the system of check and balance. The Judiciary is the reason which always keep the doors closed for dictatorship. The chief justice Marshall stopped Jefferson from being the king of USA. The Judiciary is responsible for changing the constitution with changing time. It keeps USA together from 13 to 50 states. The same constitution was glued the 13 states and because of Judiciary the same constitution is holding together the 50 states. Supreme Court is protecting law and constitutions because they have security as once appointed judge can not be removed from his position. This gives them the sense of influenced free trials. This all detail emphasized the Judiciary is playing an important political role in USA.
