Climatic Condition And Spirit of Man.

In Northern European countries, the cold weather is beneficial. ^{generates} As cold climate generate energy as an obstacle when obstacles are invincible, energy does not produce. ^{there is} If there is no resistance, no exercise for energy will be done. But striving against difficulties turns in good results. Similarly cold weather makes a person senseless while hot encourages and moderate keeps healthy. In moderately cold, performing ^{strenuous} strenuous duties still give difficulties. Eventually he works hard for food to get energy. But always in need of better clothes, comfortability, health, and food. A bit support can assure sustainable life without much efforts. Because there is a difference ^{between} between human nature in regions and climates.
