

Why I want to be a CSP Officer?

The main aim of becoming a CSP officer is to attain a position which is influential enough to create an impact in our society. A powerful position which I can utilize to be an advocate of the issues that are prevailing around me, be it domestic or at large scale. Another reason of being an aspirant to CSS is my aim to be an inspirational figure for the women of our country and create a change in the mindset of typical families who do not allow their girls to fly and clip their wings at a very young age by getting them married. Also, fulfilling a wish of mine, not being a burden on the economy of my country, instead, contributing to it to the fullest of my capabilities.
