

Woman Empowerment :-

Woman empowerment plays an important role in setting a state on the road of progress. It is evident from many events that whenever an opportunity is given to a woman, she produces the best out of it. When given equal rights and opportunities to women like men, they marked their feet in every aspect of life, may it be political, social, economic or educational. Besides reproducing a child, she produces a progressive generation through her leading skills. It is sad to say that she still did not get her <sup>full</sup> rights in the third world countries when our main concern is women empowerment. Necessary steps shall be taken in such countries to provide better opportunities to women that could result in a progressive state.