Manto and His Realistic Portrayal of Society

Manto has been a target of Society's conflicting attitudes rooted in double standards. His writings were labelled as vulgar facing the legal actions. However, he remained committed and continued to expose the harsh reality of Society. Like Freud, his writings aimed to expose the complexities of human sexuality in realistic way faced by oppressed people, such as prostitutes and low wage workers. Manto considered Man as a mixture of both, good and evils. He disliked the way people pretended to be good while acting differently in real life. He observed the human nature realistically and addressed the ~~tattoo~~ tattoo subjects without being biased or vulgar. His writings about harsh social realities were driven by intense passion rather than mere ~~with~~ excitement.
