

Inam Bux

Pathways to Pakistan's Prosperity.

Brain - Storming

Pathways to Pakistan's Prosperity.

Outlines:

1. Introduction:

Hook

General Background

Thesis Statement

2. Pathways:

2.1 Strengthening the Economy;

2.1.1 Re-valuing the Rupee.

2.1.2 Investing in Industrial growth.

2.1.3 Stabilizing trade deficit.

2.2 Agricultural Revival;

2.2.1 Promoting farming modernization.

2.2.2 Providing farmers, easy access to markets.

2.2.3 Public-Private partnership in agriculture sector.

- 2.3 Technological Innovation;
 - 2.3.1 Investing in AI-based programs.
 - 2.3.2 Promoting technology education.
- 2.4 Infra-structure and connectivity;
 - 2.4.1 Utilizing CPEC opportunity
 - 2.4.2 Connectivity of rural with urban areas.
- 2.5 Energy Crisis;
 - 2.5.1 Shifting to renewable energy resources.
 - 2.5.2 Revising IPP agreements.
 - 2.5.3 Utilizing Pakistan-made resources.
- 2.6 Security & Stability;
 - 2.6.1 Countering internal security threats.
 - 2.6.2 Establishing peace especially on Eastern and Southern border.
 - 2.6.3 Informing nation about national threats.
- 2.7 Environmental Sustainability:
 - 2.7.1 Mitigating Climate Change
(5th most climate-vulnerable country)
 - 2.7.2 Resolving water issues (Indus water treaty)

- 2.8 Governance and Political ^{Stability} ~~Stability~~;
- 2.8.1 Strengthening rule of law.
- 2.8.2 Eradicating corruption.
- 2.8.3 Implementing effective and long-run policies.
- 2.8.4 Allowing one government to complete its tenure.

3. Conclusion.

The Essay

Shari Arison, social entrepreneur and an advocate for "prosperity beyond money" has said, "True prosperity is not about money alone, but about making a society that allows every individual to thrive".

Prosperity has been achieved by the developed countries, however, developing countries like Pakistan, are still struggling. The meaning of the idea, 'Prosperity', differs subjectively, but in broad context, it can be said as a idea, which, ^{when} adopted by any country, then that country is an ideal place to live peacefully, and respectfully. Pakistan has seen various ups and down, since its creation. These conditions were certainly created by its own rulers and also the citizens. Pakistan has been awarded with many blessings such as natural resources, culture, history, and most importantly, its geographic location, as highlighted by Ex-General Pervez Musharraf that, "Pakistan's geography has been its biggest blessing". Since its creation, Pakistan has faced a mountain of challenges including political instability, economic vicissitude, internal and external security threats, poverty, and many more. Pakistan has potential to rise as a prosperous nation in the world. Pakistan has to focus on a key to unlock its potential, and that key contains certain factors and steps. Those factors are; Strengthening the economy, agricultural revival, technological innovation, improving infrastructure and connectivity, overcoming energy crisis, ensuring security and stability, achieving environmental sustainability, and good governance and political stability. These pathways are stairs for Pakistan to rise as a prosperous and respectable nation in the world.