

=> Brain Drain : Causes and Consequences

Brainstorming:

No write to draw flow chart in the essay outline

Outline:

1- Introduction:

- 1.1- Attention grabber
- 1.2- Background information
- 1.3- Thesis Statement:

The main causes of brain drain in Pakistan are economic, social and political factors, which pose serious threats such as declining labor force, decreased economic productivity and slower technological advancement in the future.

2- Main Body: A- Causes:

1- Economic Factors:

- 2.1.1 Unemployment
- 2.1.2 Low wages
- 2.1.3 Income gap
- 2.1.4 Currency devaluation
- 2.1.5 High taxation

2- Social Factors:

- 2.2.1 Nepotism
- 2.2.2 Poor health infrastructure
- 2.2.3 Poor research facilities
- 2.2.4 Lack of merit system
- 2.2.5 Limited demand for certain professions

3- Political Factors:

- 2.3.1 Unstable economic policies
- 2.3.2 Political instability
- 2.3.3 Violence and terrorism

Don't give one word reason properly transfo your statements into arguments ..

B- Consequences:

- 2.1 Future prospects
- 2.2 Less labor force
- 2.3 Slow technological advancement
- 2.4 Less capital accumulation
- 2.5 Less economic productivity
- 2.6 Less skilled workers
- 2.7 Brain waste

3- Conclusion

General comments ..

Thesis statement is fine but it can be made better by properly rephrasing ..

Second your argumentation is missing... Try to work on your arguments and give evidences to support your arguments ...

There is no need to give mind map or flow charts in essay it should be written in a formal way.

Your attention grabber is little bit weak try to make a strong attention grabber... The introduction paragraph is also short

The Essay :

A country's greatest asset is not its gold or oil, but its people. When they leave, the nation loses more than just numbers - it loses its future. There are many countries that are facing the challenge of brain drain. Unfortunately, Pakistan is also one of them. It refers to the large scale emigration of skilled professionals. Every year, thousands of highly educated and skilled Pakistanis leave the country in search of better opportunities abroad. Engineers, doctors, IT professionals, and academics, many of whom were trained in Pakistan's top institutions and on whom the government's resources were spent, are choosing foreign lands over their homeland. But why? Is it because of the lack of opportunities, political instability or economic uncertainty driving this mass migration? The main causes of brain drain in Pakistan are economic, social and political factors, which pose serious threats such as declining labor force, decreased economic productivity and slower technological advancement in the future. The government should implement measures to prevent brain drain and ensure that the nation retains its brightest minds.

(174 words)