

one of the most critical governance issue in Pakistan is corruption. Corruption has permeated every aspect of Pakistani society and has become a norm. It has not only affected the functioning of governmental institutions but also the private sectors resulting in a lack of trust in public institutions and a decrease in foreign investment. Corruption within police and law enforcement agencies reduce their effectiveness, leading to higher crime tion in Pakistan is multifaceted, and issue for the governance system.

Another significant issue of governance in Pakistan is political instability.

Pakistan has experienced multiple military coups, political assassination and sectarian violence, resulting in a lack of political stability in the country. The absence of political stability has hindered the development of a stable and effective governance system. ^{As} Constant turnover
