

An investment in knowledge always pays the best interest

Outline:

(A) Introduction:

Thesis Statement: Knowledge, gained from education, self-learning, or observation, benefits both individuals and society economically, politically, and socially.

Explain properly how it serves interests...
Rephrase your thesis statement

(B) Individual Benefits.

- (i) Instills critical thinking ability.
- (ii) Better understanding of worldly affairs.
- (iii) Helps to excel in life.

(C) Collective Benefits.

(1) Economic Benefits.

- (i) Produce a skilled workforce
- (ii) Promotes innovation that leads to industrial growth
- (iii) Enable economic diversification.

(2) Political Benefits.

- (i) Produce a good good leadership.
- (ii) Strengthens democracy.
- (iii) Makes a nation easy to govern.

Your points are good but try to connect with the topic how it serves

(3) Social Benefits.

- (i) Instills resilience in time of crisis
- (ii) Unites people against national issues
- (iii) Reduce Crimes
- (iv) Promotes Social Cohesion.

interests...critical thinking helps to analyze situation properly that serves interests at individual level..

(D) Conclusion

Support your arguments with evidences

The Essay

A famous saying of the Holy Prophet is, "Seek knowledge even if you have to go as far as China". Interpretations of jurisprudence suggest that he advised Muslims to strive to seek knowledge, even if it is one of the most arduous task. Despite the passing of 1400 years, his advice holds the same relevance. This is because knowledge instills critical thinking, empowers individuals to understand the world better, and helps them to excel in life. Moreover, on a collective level, a knowledgeable society ensures a skilled workforce that drive economic progress. It also promotes industrial growth by fostering innovation and enables economic diversification. Additionally, a knowledgeable society produces good leadership, strengthens democracy, and makes governance easier. On a social level, it shows more resilience against crisis, unites people against national issues, and fosters safety and social cohesion. As seen, knowledge benefits both individuals and society economically, politically, and socially.

Very short Introduction ...atleast elaborate a little bit more to properly summarize your essay...