----- exotic place.

A Trip to Cherokee

The author said that he wanted to go on vacation to relax his mind. One of his friend Joan planned a trip to Cherokee with him. They visited a town of Cherokee, Qualla Boundary which served as a whole paradise for them. By the help of citizens, they managed to stay here. Cherokees gave them a warm welcome. A local native George meet them and invited them on a lunch. On meetup, he told them how he tried hard for its family survival. But they had another way of survival that is "Bingo Weekend." It was full of super lotteries and games for tourists. We made a last stop at Qualla Boundary where Cherokees art work had amazed us.
