Modern Tutors: Modern Learners.

The writer said that modern tutors avoid to interfere in their pupil's negative habits; also loss to enjoy their childhood. Children will response to your suggestions and also accept your restrictions; if they are being treated with affection. The ideal kind of interest is natural enjoyment in company of children, free from hidden motive. It is entirely impossible that overburdened teachers <sup>do not</sup> like their pupil's company. The writer further said that two hour study is enough per day; but for those tutors who remained away from children rest of the day.

This is not important to implement rules to control naughty children. The write way to control them with affection.
