

Instruction in youth is like engraving in stone.

Thesis statement: The instruction in youth lays the foundation of human personality. The reason is that instruction in youth leaves a long-lasting impact on all aspects of life. However, poor instruction in youth has a number of consequences. Therefore, certain proposed measures are required ~~for~~ to provide effective instruction to the youth.

Outline:

I. Introduction

II. Instruction in youth forms the foundation of human personality:

- A. Improves decision-making skills in youth
- B. Grows into informed and law-abiding citizens
- C. Reduces future criminal behavior.
- D. Motivates youth to contribute to welfare and service
- E. Creates youth well aware of their rights and duties
- F. Bridge the ethnic and religious divides
- G. Leads to more employment opportunities
- H. Youth contribute to economically rather relying on state aid.
- I. Nurtures future community leaders.

III. Consequences of poor instruction in youth:

- A. Difficulty in communication and building relationship
- B. Produced unskilled youth, leading to unemployment and poverty.
- C. Increased crimes, bullying and social unrest.
- D. Unstable democracy due to uninformed and irresponsible voters.

IV. Proposed measures for providing effective instruction to the youth:

- A. Incorporate structured lessons on empathy, cooperation, and self-awareness.
- B. Encourage private sector involvement in youth skill development and hiring.
- C. Teach respect, tolerance, responsibility, and human rights from an early age.
- D. Include Civic education as a core subject.

V. Conclusion